| Vanessa Quintanilla                              | MMS   | Why is Manor Middle School still opened when 70 percent of the in person students is being sent home along with 15 teachers. I have kids from 3 Manor campuses. One of them is already out until after Christmas break. I do not feel safe sending my kids back to school considering these numbers and the time being provided to sanitize every area of the school properly where the kids have been.  | Manor Middle School will remain open because there is still enough staff to support scholars in person for instruction  |
| Hayley Cook                                      | Manor Middle School - lack of transparency with covid and lack of care for students and staff safety. | Administration lacks the care and support for staff who are working in building and getting exposed to COVID.  | MISD cares about all scholars and staff   |
| Williams   | Manor MS lack of transparency related to Covid & the handling of staff & their health concerns.       | MMS handling of Covid outbreaks is not being handled correctly.  | MMS cares about all scholars and staff  |
| Carol Pagel                                      | MMS COVID and not closing   | Why is the health of your students and staff not important at MMS?   | MMS cares about all scholars and staff  |
| Rayna Smith                                      | Health and Safety of Students and Staff   | It is irresponsible to open Manor Middle School tomorrow or for the rest of this week given the number of students and staff affected by the confirmed cases there today. As a professional educator, I truly believe that we will deliver more effective instruction in the next four days in a fully remote setting than is possible through hybrid learning. Rather than create further disruption through confusing schedule changes, staffing challenges, and a heightened sense of fear and anxiety at school, we should close the building. TEA acknowledges that this may be necessary when cases are confirmed at a school and will fund closed schools for a limited number of days of virtual learning. It would also allow additional time for our exceptional custodial staff to thoroughly clean the building and allow students and staff to feel safe returning. The board should act on this immediately and recommend a building closure for the remainder of this week.   | Manor Middle School will remain open because there is still enough staff to support scholars in person for instruction  |
| Norvetta Hill                                    | Teacher shortage at MMS due to a large number students and teachers having to quarantine              | Safety should be first for everyone in the building at MMS (All Admin, Staff and Students)   | Safety is of utmost importance with our staff and students in MISD and at every school and building in Manor ISD. We have provided Personal Protective Equipment for all students and staff. We have gone above and beyond in providing table top sneeze guards. Temperatures are taken each day for all students as they enter school. Each staff member has to do a Covid self assessment. We notify parents and students of any Covid infections and quarantine any contacts for 14 days. This notification goes out the same day an infection is reported. We are in constant contact with the Centers for Disease Control and our county officials for updates on COVID protocols. |
| Gregory Shrewsbury                               | COVID   | Right before Thanksgiving break, the TEA came out with a provision for schools to go remote for 14 days if the school experienced a widespread COVID issue along with staffing issues. There are provisions to deal with the type of situation that is occurring at MMS. We have over 100 kids being sent home, and 8th grade will be short on teachers. This means that classes will be doubled up, causing a health risk for the remaining students and staff.   | All MISD campuses still have adequate staff to support with in person instruction   |
| Patrick O'Hare                                   | Remote Learning   | It is in the best interests of students, staff, and families that Manor Middle School and much of Manor ISD transition to fully virtual for the remainder of this week before the winter break. The fact that there are continually new cases, with two at MMS now and likely more this week, with distressingly bare protective measures and quarantine protocols should alarm you. MMS leadership has utterly failed to address the problem and has pretended that no problem exists when confronted by staff and members of the community. The current case counts and hospitalizations in Travis County point to an imminent return to Stage Five protections and dangers, and we should be doing everything in our power to ensure the safety of the Manor community. There is substantial benefit in remote learning before the winter break with a reexamination of the COVID-19 situation in Travis County in the new year. There is frankly too much risk in the community right now, and the only way to provide students with a safe learning environment and staff with a safe working environment is to go fully remote now. It is irresponsible to continue this way | Manor Middle School will remain open because there is still enough staff to support scholars in person for instruction  |

| Jennifer Sturley                                 | Remote Learning   | It is unconscionable for Manor Middle School (and the whole school district) to remain open right now while COVID cases are surging. Schools must immediately switch to remote/virtual learning and remain that way until at least 2 weeks after winter break to allow for appropriate time for quarantining and protect the lives of students, teachers, and other staff.   | Manor Middle School will remain open because there is still enough staff to support scholars in person for instruction |
| Michele Deitch                                   | Switch to remote learning                               | I support the switch to remote learning for the rest of the year through winter break.   | No Response Required   |
| Shanetra Fowler                                  | None  | Just checking to see if the form was still active. No comment please disregard if this goes through.   | No Response Required   |
| Jamilah Wallace                                  | Teacher shortage, teacher safety at Manor Middle School | Students and teachers will be quarantining starting tomorrow, December 15. 200+ students and a large number of teachers will be out for the remainder of the four days before winter break. How is this not a teacher shortage? Prior to Thanksgiving Break, TEA, stated , "schools now have the power to temporarily suspend on campus instruction if a "significant number of the instructional staff at the campus is out due to a confirmed COVID-19 outbreak". This is a safety issue and I do not feel that the district is putting my safety, my students, and my coworkers safety as their number one priority. If substitutes are not found, (and they won't be, because we are constantly having to split students), students will be placed in other teachers rooms, thus continuing to put others at risk. | All MISD campuses still have adequate staff to support with in person instruction                                      |
